DOT AUDIT ASSISTANCE

Protecting Your Company in the Event of a DOT Audit or CSA Intervention

If you receive notice of a DOT audit or an intervention under CSA, J. J. Keller's experienced DOT consultants can assist you to ensure the best possible outcome. Your dedicated consultant will prepare your records and documentation and advise you throughout the process. Your consultant can also help you prevent future audits and interventions by developing a sustainable compliance program customized for you.

Audit services include:

DOT New Entrant Safety Audit

If you're a new entrant, you must complete a safety audit between the first six and 18 months of operation. But don't wait to get a notice that your audit is next week — call now to ensure you'll be ready for the audit that is on the way. If you have already undergone your audit and need help with your DOT Corrective Action Plan (CAP), we can help you make this process easier.

DOT Compliance Review

As soon as you receive notice of a Compliance Review or investigation, contact us to help you prepare your records and documentation, and advise you through the process. We have a proven track record of successful outcomes. If your audit has already occurred and you need to create a Cooperative Safety Plan (CSP), we'll help prepare your plan so you can keep your business moving and minimize the risk of additional negative impacts, including authority revocation.

Safety Upgrade Request

If you're operating with a Conditional or Unsatisfactory safety rating — or have failed a DOT safety audit — your operating authority could be suspended or revoked within 30-60 days. You can make a formal request to FMCSA to get your rating increased to Satisfactory. A J. J. Keller® consultant will help you prepare the DOT-required documentation detailing how your deficiencies have been addressed. They can also help you avoid future problems by designing and implementing a program that focuses on your biggest risk areas.
