Meet some of our Consultants who are ready to serve the unique demands of your company:

Shirley Thomas, MS, MBA, Ed.D.
Safety Consultant

"Great companies are in compliance by design and don't leave safety to chance. It's my goal to empower clients with knowledge and training, and to ensure they have the proper procedures and best practices in place to be effective and successful."

Ed Emerick
Lead Safety Consultant

"My goal is to make sure my client has a workforce that understands the regulations and required safety practices so they can work safely, with fewer injuries and penalties, and less liability exposure."

Doug Herlein
Human Resource Consultant

"People are the key assets to all companies. The key elements to people lie within their body, mind, heart and soul. Success comes from building on these elements."

Todd Ward
Consulting Practice Manager

"Hands down, ongoing compliance is one of the toughest operational areas to manage, with its multiple focus areas requiring diverse skill sets. I bring it all together for my clients, so they know nothing has been left to chance."

Services We Offer

Audits & Assessments

Thorough assessments of your company's policies, procedures, roles and responsibilities allow us to identify your company's compliance gaps, then recommend meaningful action and best practices. Our proprietary diagnostic audits include a scoring and rating system to help you benchmark your results over time, help you prepare for an actual government audit, and protect you in the event of litigation.

Program Management

Ongoing compliance program management provides significant value, combining customization and the best of J. J. Keller. We help you take your results to the next level by providing expert guidance and additional bandwidth to supplement traditionally lean or short-staffed safety teams.

Training

Employee and supervisor training is delivered by experienced professionals. Your Consultant creates curriculum to fit your operation, utilizing J. J. Keller's vast resources to meet your specific training requirements. Training is available in classroom, webinar, and computer-based formats.

Policies & Procedures

Solidify your compliance program with well-defined policies and procedures. Your Consultant provides guidance and help in writing, maintaining and enforcing compliant policies and procedures.

Government Reporting

With our specialized knowledge of government requirements, we can help with required reporting, including I-9, Tier II, OSHA 300 log, DOT authority, CSA reporting, challenging a violation in the DataQs system, and more.

"The Consultants arrived in a timely manner, conducted the audits in a professional way, worked well with our staff, and were able to condense the information they gathered into reports that were well put together and easy to understand.

We are not experts in this area and relied heavily on our Consultants."
