Let us do the work for you!

We know that no single organization can develop the best solutions in a vacuum. So we've partnered with organizations that allow us to combine our experience and offer a greater breadth of compliance services. These services range from annual government reporting to full compliance program management solutions.

One of our most valued partnerships is the one with U.S. Compliance Corporation, a premier provider of safety and environmental compliance advisory services.

This strategic partnership has enabled us to provide our clients with unmatched expertise in environmental and workplace safety, regulatory compliance and related best practices.

Together, we become an extension of your business, leveraging the knowledge and experience gained from over 85 combined years of working with companies in all industries to attain and sustain environmental, health and safety compliance.

Key Benefits

Service Approach

We want to be your business partner, not just your consultant. You can expect extraordinary service from highly knowledgeable industry professionals. Many of our consultants have over 20 years of experience and maintain a variety of professional certifications (Professional Engineers, Certified Safety Professionals, and Certified Transportation Professionals). Our consultants are full-time staff, not contract employees.

Customized Programs

We will build your program based on the specific needs of your facilities. Our partnerships commonly include reporting, site assessments, training and audits.

Geographically Convenient

Because our staff is located across the U.S., our advisors can efficiently travel to your facilities, keeping your costs low.

Included in All Programs

- Initial assessment
- Advisement and training customization
- Safety and compliance calendar
- Audit/intervention support
- Expert on-demand assistance
- Monthly J. J. Keller regulatory webcasts
- Discount on J. J. Keller products
- Online training points for J. J. Keller training programs

Build a Program to Fit Your Company

Popular Services & Programs

Our services and programs are based on an ongoing advisory schedule. These structured, yet cost-effective, services will keep you in compliance with OSHA and/or environmental guidelines at a fraction of the cost of a full-time employee.

Environmental Compliance Audit

Know your facility's regulatory status with federal, state and local environmental requirements. An environmental professional will conduct an onsite audit to minimize your risk of EPA penalties and fines.

Environmental Health & Safety Compliance Fundamentals

A dedicated advisor will identify your company's OSHA and EPA risk areas to help you stay compliant. Then we'll help implement solutions based on your business needs and industry best practices. Plus, we'll maintain environmental permits, reports and plans, in addition to delivering continued oversight and training through planned onsite visits throughout the year.

Environmental Health & Safety Compliance Monitoring System

Qualified EH&S professionals will visit your facilities at least once per year to perform a detailed, unbiased assessment of your environmental and/or safety and health compliance status. Use this proven method to drive accountability throughout your organization and better manage your internal EH&S efforts. Ideal for large, multi-site operations that want to assist their internal EH&S corporate personnel, in addition to receiving third-party validation and objectivity.

OSHA Compliance Assessment

Better understand the regulatory liabilities your business faces with our assessment that will identify areas that need attention and areas that have been managed well. Staying ahead of OSHA requirements will provide you with the reassurance to focus on increasing productivity and growing your business.

SPCC Compliance Services

A trained advisor will visit your facility for an onsite inspection required by the regulations. Then we'll prepare your SPCC plan in accordance with the regulations. The outcome is a solid plan that's certified by an on-staff registered Professional Engineer (P.E.).

How We Help Clients

When an advisor meets with you to discuss compliance, they'll work to understand your operation — and offer guidance based on your unique situation. The result is a high-impact program that supports your operation with any combination of the following services:

- Facility walk-throughs to provide independent, third party evaluation of your safety and environmental processes.
- Regularly scheduled visits at your facilities throughout the year to supply necessary training, review programs and conduct facility walk-throughs.
- Filing of compliance reports and reviewing of systems to ensure your company maintains compliance throughout the year.
- Development of a unique Compliance Calendar with activities and deadlines to work from to ensure compliance.
- Ongoing regulatory support between visits.
- Integration of online training and online management tools to make regulatory content and training consistent and accessible for you.

"We've had a significant improvement in our environmental compliance since we started working with you on our site visits. We have a pretty robust program in place that we've never had in the past."
