

J. J. Keller™

OSHA Compliance Assessment

In FY 2014 alone OSHA conducted 23,929 workplace inspections, resulting in 73,667 citations and over $122 million in penalties. Those numbers are only likely to increase with OSHA's new programmed inspection plan.

One of the best ways to protect your employees, eliminate hazards, and ensure compliance is to continuously analyze your workplace conditions. The OSHA Compliance Assessment will identify where deficiencies exist and what can be done to improve them.

How the program works:

- You'll be assigned a consultant who is familiar with your industry. Many of our consultants have over 20 years of experience and maintain a variety of professional certifications.
- Your consultant will contact you to learn about your business processes and safety objectives, then offer guidance based on your specific situation.
- During the on-site visit, your consultant will conduct a comprehensive OSHA compliance audit and works to better understand your safety program and culture. This involves facility walk-throughs, interviews with key stakeholders, and an assessment of the areas covered in an OSHA audit:
 - hazard identification & control
 - safety training
 - incident & accident investigation policy & procedures
 - written safety & health program.
- You'll receive a detailed Executive Report that identifies your risk areas that need to be addressed and an action plan detailing how to improve your safety program.

Areas of focus can include:

- Confined Spaces
- Electrical Safety
- Emergency Action Plan
- Elevated Surfaces
- Fire Protection
- Hazard Communication
- Injury & Illness Prevention Program
- Lockout/Tagout Procedures
- Machine Guarding
- Personal Protective Equipment
- Powered Industrial Trucks
- Recordkeeping
- Safety Committees

OSHA Compliance Assessment (cont.)

Value of third-party assessment:

- Obtain an objective, unbiased look at your safety program
- Leverage industry knowledge, best practices, and experience that you may not have internally
- Find out how strong your safety program is through a comprehensive review of all applicable OSHA regulations
- Get buy-in from managers and employees with an objective evaluation from a credible source
- Demonstrate your commitment to safety to internal and external stakeholders
- Save significant time and resources
- Use an assessment as the cornerstone of your company's "good faith defense" in the event of future litigation

Why J. J. Keller?

We're experts in safety consulting services and training. With 60+ years in business under our belts, 70+ regulatory specialists on our team, and 15,000+ products and services at hand, we're well-equipped to help you get safety and compliance challenges off your plate.

Take a proactive approach to OSHA compliance.

Contact us today for a no-obligation discussion.

JKellerservices.com | 1.888.473.4638

Our expertise.
Your advantage.

 J. J. Keller
& Associates, Inc.®
Since 1953